LEGION TO VOTE ON WET-DRY PROPOSAL

COUNTY RESORT OPERATOR KILLS SELF ON SIDEROAD; PRESSES GUN BARREL TO HEART, PULLS TRIGGER

While authorities were convinced that the shooting was a case of self inflection, they could learn no reason today what prompted Gordon Swanson, 68-year-old resort operator on Crooked lake and former Brainerd resident for 24 years, to kill himself.

Edwin Swanson, son, came to Brainerd this morning from the Dakotas where he worked on fall plowing, to open a letter given him by authorities. The letter was terse, written by Gordon Swanson and left in a conspicuous place in the home. It gave no indication that the writer contemplated suicide, stating only that he had purchased a store in Crosby, that he considered it a good buy and that he urged his son to come to him immediately.

JOHN L. SMITH DIES; WIFE IS REPORTED DYING

SUCCUMBS IN MINNEAPOLIS TO HEART ATTACK BROUGHT ON BY GAS POISONING

John L. Smith, 74, former resident of Brainerd and widely known throughout Crow Wing county, died today in Minneapolis after his unconscious body was found with that of his wife in a gas filled room.

Mrs. Smith was reported to be dying.

Smith died from an attack of heart disease brought on by gas poisoning, the coroner's office reported.

The gas poisoning was an accident, it was said. Open windows and the fact that Mrs. Smith was found at the side of the kitchen range with a broken match in her hand were reported to have convinced the coroner that the tragedy was accidental.

One jet in the kitchen gas range was open, the coroner said. Mrs. Smith apparently was about to light the range when she was overcome.

Mrs. E. Fogg and Florence Garvey, sisters of Mrs. Smith discovered the pair.

Dr. R. D. Matchan, family physician, was called and gave what aid he could. Smith never regained consciousness, dying at 9 a. m.

A post mortem examination conducted by Dr. Matchan and Dr. C. A. Hobbs, deputy coroner, showed death due to gas poisoning.

Smith and other members of his family today were declared to be heavily interested in northern Minnesota lake shore property, mostly in the vicinity of Gull lake.

Smith is survived by a son, Lindsey Smith; three brothers, Walter Smith, J. R. Smith, both of Brainerd, and I. N. Smith, of Minneapolis, one sister, Mrs. Haire, of New York.

Smith was a resident of Brainerd for many years. In his early life he was employed by the old Linnemann-Koop firm. Later, he entered the jewelry business and then became an insurance and real estate operator.

The deceased left this city about 30 years ago.

The son, Lindsey Smith, last week began serving a sentence of one to ten years in the Stillwater penitentiary, after being found guilty of embezzling $30,000 from the Hennepin Savings and Loan association in Minneapolis.

J. N. Peyton, state commissioner of banks, said that the elder Smith, who was cashier of the Savings and Loan association, was not involved in any way with his son's crime.

Ross Olmsted, son of Rev. and Mrs. N. P. Olmsted, Brainerd, is enrolled at the Yankton College, Yankton, S. D., this fall.

Naperville, Ill., Sept. 23.—(UP)—E. F. Stark, taxi company owner, told his employees he'd drive a cab himself to prove they could get passengers if they tried. On his first trip, the passenger robbed him of his cab, his pants, and $30.

CORRELL BANK BANDITS EVADE LARGE POSSE

DISAPPEAR WITHOUT TRACE AFTER ROBBING CORRELL BANK OF ABOUT $2,500

Ortonville, Minn., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Two bandits who held up the First State Bank of Correll of $2,500 today apparently had escaped with their loot.

Although a posse and two agents from the State Criminal Bureau took part in the attempt to head off the fleeing men, they disappeared without trace six miles north of Correll.

Immediately after the holdup, Duncan Barr, cashier of the bank set off the alarm and Harry C. Nelson, elevator man, pursued the bandit automobile along the county road until they outdistanced him. Other townspeople took part in the pursuit but trailed far behind.

A cordon of posse men in surrounding counties failed to trap the bandits. The investigation today was in the hands of the state crime bureau agents, William Conley and John Burns.

Cashier Duncan Barr failed to identify Hans Christianson, a suspect wanted for the Hardwick, Minn., bank robbery as one of the men who robbed the Correll bank.

Sheriff P. W. Daly, said, however, that Christianson was seen at Benson Saturday and was certain that Christianson had something to do with the Correll holdup.

NEW INDICTMENT FACES FLOWERS

ANOTHER CHARGE LOOMS UP AGAINST EX-CREDIT HEAD WHEN HE GAINS FREEDOM

Le Center, Minn., Sept. 23.—(UP)—When H. H. Flowers, former head of the State Rural Credits Bureau, is released next Tuesday from the Ramsey county jail a week from tomorrow, he will face indictment on a charge of approving excessive liability of the defunct Cleveland State bank.

Flowers, who is serving a three months sentence after pleading guilty to charges that he benefited from a state transaction which as an official he was connected, was indicted yesterday by a LeSueur county grand jury.

Actor, Lakes Visitor, Entertains Idea of "Czar" of U. S. and Outlines His Policy

Theodore Derks, Chicago, an actor by profession but a student of economic and political conditions at heart, a visitor at Horse Shoe lake in Crow Wing county, would be a candidate for "czar" of the United States, he says, if there was such a position open.

Derks has an original platform, one which he can converse on for hours at a sitting.

He outlined his main plank for country wide reform and prosperity as follows:

1. Exemption of all homesteads from taxation. (Includes farm and homes in cities occupied by the owner).

2. Income tax to be the basic tax for the support of local and federal governments.

3. Registration of all persons. To any person who cannot show legal entrance in the country the government would confiscate his property and impose a sentence of a fine and imprisonment, such sentence to be suspended on deportation and suspended during his absence from the country.

4. Increase the inheritance tax by a graduated scale, increasing the tax rate in proportion to the size of the estate. All estates over one million dollars will be assessed on the basis of 90 per cent for the excess of one million. Heavy penalty and confiscation for gifts made in contemplation of death.

5. Prohibit a corporation or firm from doing business in any state except the state in which it is incorporated.

6. Adopt the Canadian system of government control of liquor.

Derks is of the belief that the present system of taxation is worse than the old feudal system for reason that the feudal lord maintained and passed to his heirs his own estate without increase while the present system in which huge sums are bequeathed continues to increase the burden on the public in maintaining interest and increased principal.

The financial status of Andrew Mellon was used as an example by Derks to illustrate his point. He said that Mellon has accumulated for himself $200,000,000 and that in two generations this capital will be increased to $3,200,000,000 on the basis of money doubling every 15 years.

Derks was of the opinion that registration of all persons would do much to weed out many undesirables who have gained illegal entry into this country, would aid in keeping down unemployment and would enrich the coffers of the U. S. treasury by the confiscation of property.

Derks, referring to plank No. 5, said that foreign corporations doing business in this state have advantages greater than those of local corporations in that they are not subject to state courts.

LEAGUE RENEWS EFFORTS TO SETTLE FAR EAST DISPUTE

JAPAN REJECTS SUGGESTION TO SEND COMMISSION TO IN- VESTIGATE SITUATION

Geneva, Sept. 23.—(UP)—A secret five-power session on the Manchuria situation was held tonight. During the session, Hugh Wilson, American representative consulted in an adjacent room with Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general of the league, who was attending the session. Previously Wilson had talked with Washington by telephone.

Geneva, Sept. 23.—(UP)—The council of the League of Nations was convened for 7 p. m. today to continue its efforts to settle the Chinese-Japanese dispute over Manchuria.

Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japanese ambassador to Paris, was understood to have received new instructions from Tokyo. Japan had rejected the league's suggestion that a mixed commission be sent to Manchuria to investigate the situation.

Mukden, Manchuria, Sept. 23.—(UP)—Japanese forces captured Tunhua today without serious resistance, completing Japanese control of the Chinese railroads in Manchuria, as well as the south Manchurian railroad zone. Tunhua is in the southeast, not far from the Korean border.

Japanese casualties in the five days of the occupation were placed at 200.

New York, Sept. 23.—(UP)—Chinese leaders today issued an impassioned appeal to the American government and people to aid the cause of international peace against Japan, which was accused of a breach of the Kellogg peace pact.

A cablegram from the China Institute of America's committee in Shanghai, addressed to Secretary of State Stimson, leading newspaper organizations and Chairman William E. Borah of the senate foreign committee, the Chinese leaders of business, education and business accused Japan of "trying to do what it did in 1915." At that time, with the world at war and England with other than far eastern problems, Japan "imposed the infamous twenty-one demands upon China," the cablegram declared.

GUARDS, FARMERS AWAIT RESULTS OF CONFERENCE

NO ATTEMPT TO USE GUARDS- MEN WILL BE MADE UNTIL AFTER MEETINGS

Tipton, Ia., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Embattled farmers from the county in which President Hoover was born were arrayed today against 1,800 men of the Iowa national guard sent here to enforce the state compulsory tuberculosis test law.

Arrival of the troops, who marched unmolested behind their company colors to the Cedar county fairground where they are camped, was the signal for an outburst of jeers and hoots from farmers lining the sidewalks of this hitherto peaceful village in the heart of one of Iowa's richest farming districts.

Conferences between leaders of the guard and officials of the State Department of Agriculture were scheduled for today. First attempts to invade the farms were veterinarians protected by the troops are expected tomorrow.

Although there were almost as many soldiers in town as there are citizens of Tipton, Brig. Gen. Park A. Findley said he would not attempt to use the guardsmen to enforce the law pending the conference with state and county officials.

Dr. Peter Malcolm, state veterinarian, however, said he planned to test every cow in Cedar county and that he would depend on the soldiers to protect him and his assistants while so doing. He has enough expert testers on hand, he said, to complete his operations in this county in one week, unless too many battles interfere.

WIFE OF 'PIRATE' VICTIM CLEARED

MRS. COLLINGS NO LONGER UN- DER SUSPICION, DISTRICT AT- TORNEY SAYS

Huntington, I. I., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Mrs. B. P. Collings has been cleared of suspicion in the murder of her husband aboard the yacht in Long Island Sound as far as District Attorney Alexander Blue of Suffolk county is concerned.

Blue, who announced when he took charge of the investigation that he believed the comely red-haired widow was not telling the truth, announced his changed opinion after a lengthy conference with Felix Di Martini, private investigator who spent all day yesterday questioning Mrs. Collings.

The prosecutor said she still told the original story about events of the night of Sept. 10—that two men boarded the cruiser, beat and cut her husband, a retired engineer, tied him, tossed him overboard, and then took her off in a canoe and attacked her.

Mrs. Collings will be asked to appear at the resumption of the coroner's inquest Friday, the prosecutor said.

Washington, Sept. 23.—(UP)—The question of Philippine independence was taken up with President Hoover today by Congressman Harold Knutson, Minnesota, who is chairman of the House insular affairs committee. Knutson said he informed Mr. Hoover he would reintroduce in congress his bill for complete and immediate freedom for the islands.

Prison's Telegraph Operator Writes "30" to Wire After It Develops to be His Pardon Order

Chester, Ill., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Jack Corder, telegraph operator, has copied his last message as a convict in the southern Illinois state penitentiary. He was sentenced at Danville, Ill., nine years ago, on a charge of slaying his housekeeper while intoxicated. Recently he was found to be suffering from advanced tuberculosis.

Corder, whose good conduct earned him the position of telegraph operator, sat at his typewriter yesterday. His thoughts were dark. He had resigned himself to dying in the penitentiary. Warden James A. White, strolling past, watched sympathetically the prisoner's mechanical response to the telegraph sounder's sudden chatter.

"Another message for you from Springfield, Warden," said Corder as he began copying it. "Lucky break for another fellow, I guess."

White read the message over Corder's shoulder.

"Gov. L. L. Emmerson today commuted to expire at once the sentence of John F. Corder, No. 6790."

Corder appeared stunned. He buried his face and sobbed. Then he wrote another word.

"Thirty"—the end.

LEADERS ASSERT RESOLUTION TO SUBMIT QUESTION TO NATION-WIDE REFERENDUM WILL PASS MEETING

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23.—(UP)—The American Legion will vote on a resolution to submit the prohibition question to a nationwide referendum.

The resolutions committee voted 25 to 19 to submit the question to delegates. Leaders say there is no doubt the former soldiers, their minds made up to demand a return of beer, will pass the resolution.

A sub-committee was named to draw up the resolution.

The resolution which will be submitted to the convention reads:

"Whereas, the 18th amendment to the constitution of the United States has created a condition endangering respect for law and the security of American institutions, now, therefore, be it resolved, that the American Legion, in its 13th annual convention assembled, favors the submission by congress of the repeal or modification of the present prohibition laws, to the several states, with a request that each state submit this question to the voters thereof."

The American Legion was urged by Howard P. Savage, Chicago, chairman of the employment committee today to

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23.—(UP)—

Miss W. H. Morgan, Edwardsville, Ill., and Mrs. Louis W. Williams, Tuckahoe, N. Y., are the candidates for president of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion. The nominating committee today reduced the field to these two.

There are but five candidates for the vice president posts which total the same number, insuring election of all.

Those nominated are: Mrs. Agnes Bourisk, Sanford, Me., eastern division; Mrs. R. W. Waldrop, Bessemer, Ala., southern division; Mrs. C. F. Snover, Ft. Atkinson, Wis., central division; Mrs. Malcolm Douglas, Seattle, western division; and Mrs. James Morris, Bismarck, N. D., northwestern division.

Wild cheering broke out on the floor after Savage finished.

"Your national employment committee feels it to be the duty of the committee to bring the following to the attention of this convention: "That when and if it shall properly come before the committee, due consideration be given to the modification of the Volstead act to legalize real beer—without any conflict with the constitution of the United States—with the interest of furnishing adequate employment."

"Your committee believes that hundreds of thousands of jobs may be created through such action."

Local officers arrested the pair here late yesterday at the request of St. Paul authorities and announced that Morgan will face kidnapping charges. They had planned to marry in Missouri, the elopers said.

The girl, in jail, sobbed, "we love each other and we are planning to be married. They can't hold me."

FIVE BANKS, FOUR OF THEM CHAIN UNITS, CLOSED

CLOSING OF CLARKSFIELD BANK CAUSES RUNS ON ECHO, HAN- LEY FALLS, COTTONWOOD UNITS

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Closing of five banks, four of them members of a chain controlled by C. S. Orwoll, Minneapolis, was announced today by J. N. Peyton, state banking commissioner.

The banks are in four counties and had total deposits of $994,000. The closing of four banks followed the closing of the key bank of the chain, the Clarksfield State bank, with $807,000 deposits.

Those closed are: The Farmers State Bank of Echo, Yellow Medicine county with deposits of $169,000.

The Farmers State Bank of Hanley Falls, Yellow Medicine county with deposits of $213,000.

The Cottonwood State Bank, Lyon county, with deposits of $514,000.

The Maynard State Bank, Chippewa county, with deposits of $300,000.

The First State Bank of Clearwater, Wright county, with deposits of $98,000.

The first four were members of the Orwoll chain.

"Owing to an affiliated stock ownership in the banks mentioned, the department of banking has been obliged to announce that the board of directors of those banks have taken definite action in closing the institutions," Peyton said.

"Immediately following the closing of the Clarksfield bank, heavy runs developed on the banks at Echo, Hanley Falls and Cottonwood because the public was thoroughly conversant with the fact that the same ownership controlled all these institutions."

T. B. ASS'N URGES SCHOOL HEALTH TEXT

SEE INCREASED DEATH RATE AS RESULT OF PRESENT ECONOMIC SITUATIONS

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Every tuberculosis association in the midwest must be ready to fight an increased death rate from tuberculosis which is likely to follow present economic situations, according to a resolution adopted by the Mississippi Valley conference on tuberculosis.

The conference entered its third and closing session today.

A vote to invite the National Tuberculosis Association to Des Moines in 1934 was passed by the delegates.

Adding the subject of health to the three "R's" on the school curriculum was urged by Frances A. Cook, director of child education at the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute.

"The radical modification of the theory that tables of height, weight and age could be taken as an infallible nutritional index is a startling revelation of the last year," she said.

CORRELL BANK BANDITS EVADE LARGE POSSE

DISAPPEAR WITHOUT TRACE AFTER ROBBING CORRELL BANK OF ABOUT $2,500

Ortonville, Minn., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Two bandits who held up the First State bank of Correll of $2,500 today apparently had escaped with their loot.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 23.—(UP)—George F. Hoan, 60, the brother Mayor Daniel T. Hoan refused a city job because he did not want to favor a relative in hard times, hanged himself today from a banister in the mayor's private garage.

George Hoan, a laborer, had been out of work a year. Coroner Henry Grundman said Hoan had tied a rope around his neck and secured the other end to the stair top, then slid down the banister.

Mayor Hoan was at Madison, attending a conference of mayors and county officials to plan public works so unemployed can be given jobs.

LEAGUE RENEWS EFFORTS TO SETTLE FAR EAST DISPUTE

JAPAN REJECTS SUGGESTION TO SEND COMMISSION TO IN- VESTIGATE SITUATION

Geneva, Sept. 23.—(UP)—A secret five-power session on the Manchuria situation was held tonight. During the session, Hugh Wilson, American representative consulted in an adjacent room with Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general of the league, who was attending the session. Previously Wilson had talked with Washington by telephone.

Geneva, Sept. 23.—(UP)—The council of the League of Nations was convoked for 7 p. m. today to continue its efforts to settle the Chinese-Japanese dispute over Manchuria.

Kenichi Yoshizawa, Japanese ambassador to Paris, was understood to have received new instructions from Tokyo. Japan had rejected the league's suggestion that a mixed commission be sent to Manchuria to investigate the situation.

New York, Sept. 23.—(UP)—Chinese leaders today issued an impassioned appeal to the American government and people to aid the cause of international peace against Japan, which was accused of a breach of the Kellogg peace pact.

A cablegram from the China Institute of America's committee in Shanghai, addressed to Secretary of State Stimson, leading newspaper organizations and Chairman William E. Borah of the senate foreign committee, the Chinese leaders of business, education and business accused Japan of "trying to do what it did in 1915." At that time, with the world at war and England with other than far eastern problems, Japan "imposed the infamous twenty-one demands upon China," the cablegram declared.

ADMINISTRATION HEARS PLEA FOR SUSPENSION OF SHERMAN ANTI-TRUST LAW DURING EMERGENCY PERIOD

Washington, Sept. 23.—(UP)—

Suspension of the Sherman anti-trust law during the period of the existing business emergency was advocated before Pres. Hoover today by Charles F. Abbott, executive director of the American Institute of Steel Construction.

"If congress could suspend operation of the Sherman law during this period of emergency," it would prevent wastes and conserve the profits that are essential to insure employment.

Washington, Sept. 23.—(UP)—Determination to maintain American standards of living was voiced in official circles today as Washington studied the announcement of wage cuts made in the last 24 hours.

Labor leaders, withholding formal comment, seemed generally indignant. On behalf of the president it was said today that the anxiety as to the standards of living which he has expressed heretofore has not been altered in any way.

The president made no statement, however, and his secretary Theodore Joslin, refused to answer any questions on the subject.

Secretary of Labor Donak said that the wage cuts were "much regretted" by his department and added that the administration's stand against wage reductions "has not been altered in the slightest degree."

Economists in the labor department feared the effects of the reductions upon economic recovery, a view not shared by all sources in Washington.

New York, Sept. 23.—(UP)—Income of a million wage earners will be reduced and earnings of their industrial corporation employers will be buoyed if the entire steel industry follows its leaders and cuts wages.

The wage cut announced late Tuesday by United States Steel Corporation, Bethlehem Steel and Youngstown Sheet and Tube, will affect about 300,000 employees. Of them 220,000 are U. S. Steel employees.

Other independent steel producers expected to follow the industry's leaders will bring the number affected within the industry itself to 400,000 employees.

Industries closely related to the production of steel employ about 600,000 men, it was estimated today.

Meantime, General Motors has also announced sliding scale salary reductions, affecting about 40,000 persons and the United States Rubber company announced it would go on a five day week Oct. 1, thereby, in effect, cutting salaries and wages about 10 per cent.

Announcement of the steel industry's wage cuts revived speculation concerning a reduction in railroad wages.

GUARDS, FARMERS AWAIT RESULTS OF CONFERENCE

NO ATTEMPT TO USE GUARDS- MEN WILL BE MADE UNTIL AFTER MEETINGS

Tipton, Ia., Sept. 3.—(UP)—Embattled farmers from the county in which President Hoover was born were arrayed today against 1,800 men of the Iowa national guard sent here to enforce the state compulsory tuberculosis test law.

Arrival of the troops, who marched unmolested behind their company colors to the Cedar county fairground where they are camped, was the signal for an outburst of jeers and hoots from farmers lining the sidewalks of this hitherto peaceful village in the heart of one of Iowa's richest farming districts.

Conferences between leaders of the guard and officials of the State Department of Agriculture were scheduled for today. First attempts to invade the farms were veterinarians protected by the troops are expected tomorrow.

Although there were almost as many soldiers in town as there are citizens of Tipton, Brig. Gen. Park A. Findley said he would not attempt to use the guardsmen to enforce the law pending the conference with state and county officials.

Dr. Peter Malcolm, state veterinarian, however, said he planned to test every cow in Cedar county and that he would depend on the soldiers to protect him and his assistants while so doing. He has enough expert testers on hand, he said, to complete his operations in this county in one week, unless too many battles interfere.

WIFE OF 'PIRATE' VICTIM CLEARED

MRS. COLLINGS NO LONGER UN- DER SUSPICION, DISTRICT AT- TORNEY SAYS

Huntington, L. I., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Mrs. B. P. Collings has been cleared of suspicion in the murder of her husband aboard the yacht in Long Island Sound as far as District Attorney Alexander Blue of Suffolk county is concerned.

Blue, who announced when he took charge of the investigation that he believed the comely red-haired widow was not telling the truth, announced his changed opinion after a lengthy conference with Felix Di Martini, private investigator who spent all day yesterday questioning Mrs. Collings.

The prosecutor said she still told the original story about events of the night of Sept. 10—that two men boarded the cruiser, beat and cut her husband, a retired engineer, tied him, tossed him overboard, and then took her off in a canoe and attacked her.

Mrs. Collings will be asked to appear at the resumption of the coroner's inquest Friday, the prosecutor said.

Washington, Sept. 23.—(UP)—The question of Philippine independence was taken up with President Hoover today by Congressman Harold Knutson, Minnesota, who is chairman of the House insular affairs committee.

Knutson said he informed Mr. Hoover he would reintroduce in congress his bill for complete and immediate freedom for the islands.

Prison's Telegraph Operator Writes "30" to Wire After It Develops to be His Pardon Order

Chester, Ill., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Jack Corder, telegraph operator, has copied his last message as a convict in the southern Illinois state penitentiary.

He was sentenced at Danville, Ill., nine years ago, on a charge of slaying his housekeeper while intoxicated. Recently he was found to be suffering from advanced tuberculosis.

Corder, whose good conduct earned him the position of telegraph operator, sat at his typewriter yesterday. His thoughts were dark. He had resigned himself to dying in the penitentiary. Warden James A. White, strolling past, watched sympathetically the prisoner's mechanical response to the telegraph sounder's sudden chatter.

"Another message for you from Springfield, Warden," said Corder as he began copying it. "Lucky break for another fellow, I guess."

White read the message over Corder's shoulder.

"Gov. L. L. Emmerson today commuted to expire at once the sentence of John F. Corder, No. 6790."

Corder appeared stunned. He buried his face and sobbed. Then he wrote another word.

"Thirty"—the end.

LEADERS ASSERT RESOLUTION TO SUBMIT QUESTION TO NATION-WIDE REFERENDUM WILL PASS MEETING

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23.—(UP)—The American Legion will vote on a resolution to submit the prohibition question to a nation-wide referendum.

The resolutions committee voted 25 to 19 to submit the question to delegates. Leaders say there is no doubt the former soldiers, their minds made up to demand a return of beer, will pass the resolution.

A sub-committee was named to draw up the resolution.

The resolution which will be submitted to the convention reads:

"Whereas, the 18th amendment to the constitution of the United States has created a condition endangering respect for law and the security of American institutions, now, therefore, be it resolved, that the American Legion, in its 13th annual convention assembled, favors the submission by congress of the repeal or modification of the present prohibition laws, to the several states, with a request that each state submit this question to the voters thereof."

There are but five candidates for the vice president posts which total the same number, insuring election of all.

Those nominated are: Mrs. Agnes Bouris, Sanford, Me., eastern division; Mrs. R. W. Waldrop, Bessemer, Ala., southern division; Mrs. C. F. Snover, Ft. Atkinson, Wis., central division; Mrs. Malcolm Douglas, Seattle, western division, and Mrs. James Morris, Bismarck, N. D., northwestern division.

"Your committee believes that hundreds of thousands of jobs may be created through such action."

FIVE BANKS, FOUR OF THEM CHAIN UNITS, CLOSED

CLOSING OF CLARKSFIELD BANK CAUSES RUNS ON ECHO, HAN- LEY FALLS, COTTONWOOD UNITS

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Closing of five banks, four of them members of a chain controlled by C. S. Orwoll, Minneapolis, was announced today by J. N. Peyton, state banking commissioner.

The banks are in four counties and had total deposits of $994,000. The closing of four banks followed the closing of the key bank of the chain, the Clarksfield State bank, with $807,000 deposits.

Those closed are: The Farmers State Bank of Echo, Yellow Medicine county with deposits of $189,000.

The Farmers State Bank of Hanley Falls, Yellow Medicine county with deposits of $213,000.

The Cottonwood State Bank, Lyon county, with deposits of $514,000.

The Maynard State Bank, Chippewa county, with deposits of $300,000.

The First State Bank of Clearwater, Wright county, with deposits of $88,000.

The first four were members of the Orwoll chain.

"Owing to an affiliated stock ownership in the banks mentioned, the department of banking has been obliged to announce that the board of directors of those banks have taken definite action in closing the institutions," Peyton said.

"Immediately following the closing of the Clarksfield bank, heavy runs developed on the banks at Echo, Hanley Falls and Cottonwood because the public was thoroughly conversant with the fact that the same ownership controlled all these institutions."

T. B. ASS'N URGES SCHOOL HEALTH TEXT

SEE INCREASED DEATH RATE AS RESULT OF PRESENT ECONOMIC SITUATIONS

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Every tuberculosis association in the midwest must be ready to fight an increased death rate from tuberculosis which is likely to follow present economic situations, according to a resolution adopted by the Mississippi Valley conference on tuberculosis.

The conference entered its third and closing session today.

A vote to invite the National Tuberculosis Association to Des Moines in 1934 was passed by the delegates.

Adding the subject of health to the three "R's" on the school curriculum was urged by Frances A. Cook, director of child education at the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute.

"The radical modification of the theory that tables of height, weight and age could be taken as an infallible nutritional index is a startling revelation of the last year," she said.

Parents and teachers throughout the state are turning with interest toward the convention for the information and education it affords, and the inspiration to its delegate body, the aftermath of which creates the "second harvest" for parental education for each month of the parent-teacher year.

"For every Child," the convention theme, correlates the purposes of the Congress that "Every Minnesota home, school and community assumes its rightful responsibility in bringing opportunity and happiness to every child" with the Children's Charter; the educational, humane and spiritual goal of the age. A combined service of the churches of Brainerd the eve of the convention on October 18, with discourses on the theme will attune the assembly with the spirit of the convention.

National Speaker Slated

CRUSADING DAYS OF BRYAN RECALLED AS SILVER BECOMES LEADING ISSUE

Washington, Sept. 23.—(U.S.)—Silver is becoming almost as lively an issue as it was in the crusading days of William Jennings Bryan.

Suspension of the gold standard by Great Britain has aroused new hopes in those who advocate a return to silver as a basis of currency and by those who would profit by the enhanced prestige and price that silver thereby would enjoy. The latter group includes mining interests in the west.

Revived apropos of the bi-metalism which Bryan preached so eloquently in his "free silver" campaigns over 30 years ago receives no encouragement from government economists. They deny it would hasten the return of prosperity.

Silver, these government economists say, has no connection with the present situation in Great Britain. They pointed today to Premier MacDonald's statement in the house of commons that it was impracticable to establish a silver basis for currency for the purpose of improving trade in eastern markets, they regard the present agitation as largely an attempt by silver interests to capitalize the British situation for their own purposes.

This, however, will not deter those who for months have been seeking some way to increase the price of the metal.

Senator Pittman, Dem., Nev., chairman of a special committee which investigated the fall in price of silver predicted England would soon drop her opposition to an international conference to stabilize the metal.

Forecasts are made freely that other countries will follow Great Britain in discarding the gold standard.

Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Rep., Ia., hailed the British action as "the beginning of the end of the gold standard in the world." He suggested that the value of the dollar be fixed at a fraction of the national wealth, and made redeemable in any commodity at its market value.

Universal adoption of a joint gold and silver standard by international agreement is the only way such a change could be accomplished without disturbing world economic conditions, according to government economists, and they see no indication of such action.

Restoration of silver as a basis of currency in some countries they say, would only introduce another unsettling factor into an already confused situation. They contend it would lead to depreciation of currency in countries which adopted the silver standard, with consequent inflation.

China was until recently the only country in the world on a silver standard. She was joined recently by Mexico.

Suspension of the gold standard by Great Britain has aroused new hopes in those who advocate a return to silver as a basis of currency and by those who would profit by the enhanced prestige and price that silver thereby would enjoy. The latter group includes mining interests in the west. Revived as the bi-metalism which Bryan preached so eloquently in his "Free silver" campaigns over 30 years ago receives no encouragement from government economists. They deny it would hasten the return of prosperity.

Silver, these government economists say, has no connection with the present situation in Great Britain. They pointed today to Premier MacDonald's statement in the house of commons that it was impracticable to establish a silver basis for currency for the purpose of improving trade in eastern markets, they regard the present agitation as largely an attempt by silver interests to capitalize the British situation for their own purposes.

This, however, will not deter those who for months have been seeking some way to increase the price of the metal.

Senator Pittman, Dem., Nev., chairman of a special committee which investigated the fall in price of silver predicted England would soon drop her opposition to an international conference to stabilize the metal.

Forecasts are made freely that other countries will follow Great Britain in discarding the gold standard.

Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Rep. Ia., hailed the British action as "the beginning of the end of the gold standard in the world." He suggested that the value of the dollar be fixed at a fraction of the national wealth, and made redeemable in any commodity at its market value.

Universal adoption of a joint gold and silver standard by international agreement is the only way such a change could be accomplished without disturbing world economic conditions, according to government economists, and they see no indication of such action.

Restoration of silver as a basis of currency in some countries they say, would only introduce another unsettling factor into an already confused situation. They contend it would lead to depreciation of currency in countries which adopted the silver standard, with consequent inflation.

China was until recently the only country in the world on a silver standard. She was joined recently by Mexico.

FOUR STORES SHOW FASHIONS OF FALL WINTER CLOTHING

MEN VIE WITH LADIES IN MODELING AT REVIEW SPONSORED BY GUILD

The Fashionette, O'Brien Mercantile company, the John M. Bye Clothing company and the Peterson Clothing company displayed models of fall and winter fashions for men, women and children last evening in the church parlors of St. Francis Catholic church. The show was sponsored by the ladies of St. Francis Guild.

Mrs. J. Hebert, in her usual entertaining manner, announced the groups as they appeared, while Mrs. Eleanor Kunitz played appropriate music at the piano.

Mrs. Henry Grossman's wedding gown was the first on the platform. It is 57 years old and was worn perfectly by her granddaughter, Miss Margaret Roth. Mrs. J. O'Brien's wedding gown, 25 years old, was shown next, followed by the present day gown of Mrs. Hawkins.

The O'Brien Mercantile company displayed children's models worn by: Francis Sundine, Charles Cossette, George O'Brien, Marybelle Thabes and Marilyn O'Brien.

The Merry Widow girls who next tripped lightly over the platform provoked much laughter from the crowd.

A new feature of style shows in Brainerd was presented last night. Men's models were shown by the John M. Bye Clothing Co. and the Peterson Clothing Co. They included men's overcoats and suits, afternoon top coats, pajamas and bathrobes and were worn by: Alfred Englehart, Roland Jenkins, Jr., Theodore Marchel and Ferdinand Frederickson for John M. Bye Clothing Co. and Drexel Geist and Joseph Lutz for the Peterson Clothing Co.

Coats, formal gowns, sports wear, street wear, Sunday evening gowns, and pajamas for women were shown by the Fashionette and the O'Brien Mercantile company. A group of oriental costumes ended the show.

The Misses Mary Jane Thompson, Virginia Cook, Doris Geist, Gladys Rardin and Geraldine Kiebler modelled for the Fashionette.

Those who modelled for the O'Brien Mercantile company were: the Misses Gertrude Goedderz, Marie Stein, Collette Mraz, Dana Peterson, Margaret Roth, Betty Dahlson, and Marion Bachelder and Mrs. Hilding Swanson.

Butter Is $6 a Pound Under Rule of Soviets

London.—S. Koldofsky, who has just returned from a mission in Russia on behalf of the British Federation of Jewish Relief Organizations, reports the following price list for food in Moscow: Milk, 42 cents a pint; eggs, 36 cents each; butter $6.24 a pound; oranges, 52 each.

Chocolate, coffee, coconut and lemons can only be obtained through food bootleggers and at prohibitive prices. Only workers possessing "working cards" can obtain tea, and then only a quarter of a pound per week is allowed for four.

Laws Allows Horse One Bite, One Kick

Los Angeles.—Following the old rule that a dog is entitled to one bite, a court here went a step further and ruled that a horse cannot be denied a single nibble, or for that matter, one kick—but not both.

Harry Goldstein, a dealer in cast-off articles, sought $725 from Frank Martin, operator of a riding stable, charging that a horse he had rented from Martin had attempted to bite his hand.

The judge ruled that Goldstein must show that Martin's horse was of a habitual vicious nature. The junk dealer couldn't prove that he horse had previously bitten or kicked, and lost the suit.

PATENTED ROASTING PROCESS CAPTURES FLAVOR OF COFFEE

Accurate Control of Heat Roasts Every Berry to a Perfect Degree

Coffee has the most delicate flavor of any food-product. Yet it is completely developed by Hills Bros.' exclusive Controlled Roasting process.

As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow... a little at a time... so the matches, uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by Controlled Roasting—the patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time. The rare blends flow through the roasters in automatically measured lots. The speed of operation and the temperature remain the same. Naturally, Hills Bros. Coffee never varies in flavor.

The usual, bulk-roasting methods can't maintain a uniform roast. That's why ordinary coffees don't have the same wonderful flavor as Hills Bros. Coffee. Controlled Roasting is patented.

Vacuum cans keep Hills Bros. Coffee fresh always. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken out and kept out of these cans. Even ordinary, "air-tight" cans do not keep coffee fresh. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trade-mark on the can.

The Tax Burden--

Traced to its source the cause of hard times and non-employment is to be found in excessive taxation, if the reasoning of many smart men is to be believed. Government and local taxes have so increased that property owners find it a big burden to meet payments they must make or have their holdings sold to satisfy the demands of government. In making effort to comply with tax demands retrenchment must be sought, too often this form of saving falling on the worker, either in decreased wages or curtailment of employment entirely.

Government tax is rarely burdensome except on the bigger businesses, local demands usually working injury to the individual, small employer or property owner. Very much of this heavy burden could be lifted if the plan of one banker, to whom we listened a short time ago, was followed.

This astute banker had for his cure the compulsory recording in a county office of every evidence of debt, every note or other form of value. No recording fee would be charged the owner of the paper offered, but the recording agent would simply stamp across the face of the note or other form of debt, the date when such paper was taken and by whom. Failure to comply with this recording system would forfeit the right to collect either principal or interest, making it certain that every form of indebtedness would be promptly brought to the proper place for making a record. Untold millions of dollars would thus be easily found by the assessor and every dollar of this huge volume would thereafter bear its share of the burden of government, consequently lightening the load now borne by those who have property visible to the naked eye.

Generally speaking it is the small property owner who pays the limit, while the owner of promises to pay conceal their holdings and evade the intent of the law that every form of property shall bear its proportionate share of government. That such a proposal would evoke much opposition from those who have dodged taxes heretofore goes without saying, but some smart legislator will grasp the chance of making himself a reputation by fathering a bill of this nature.

A Colorful Candidate--

Wm. Murray, commonly referred to as "Alfalfa Bill," would make a colorful candidate for president on any presidential ticket.

Just now "Alfalfa" is serving as governor of Oklahoma, where he was elected as a democrat after defeating the supposedly strong candidate in the primary. Murray walked his way into the confidences of his people, tramping the state and eating a hand-out wherever he could find it. He was one of the old-time legislators of his state and helped to frame many of its laws, some of them very excellent pieces of legislation. Since coming into the governorship, however, Bill has given little heed to red tape which in some instances he helped to create, but goes at things in the "direct" way.

Oklahoma is pretty well filled with grafting politicians, big and little, and these have felt the heavy hand of the governor, the latter having the power of removal from office in many instances, a power he has not hesitated to use whenever he thought the welfare of the state or community required a change.

His espousal of crude oil producers' pleas in their efforts to get a fair price for their product and his use of the military of the state until $1 per barrel was paid for crude oil fixed his popularity in his home state. Governors of adjoining states declared his plans were not practical and could not be carried through, but the governor of Texas eventually followed the program laid down by "Alfalfa Bill," and in another form the Kansas executive has followed suit.

His friends have likened the Oklahoma governor unto Theodore Roosevelt, but it is very questionable if he is ever seriously considered for president outside his own state and among his near neighbors. There are worse men than Alfalfa Bill, however, who are being groomed as presidential timber.

Judging by contributed matter for the daily papers many thousands are anxious for the welfare of the paper to which they offer voluminous suggestions. Nearly all these contributed articles bear the taint, however, of having an ulterior motive. Furtherance of their own particular line is generally seen in all contributed matter, but the general welfare is usually stressed as the reason for the contribution.

England is passing through harrowing experiences in its efforts to keep itself as the leading exponent of the gold standard. Its leaders are confronted with the problem of idle workmen in great numbers, the dole is being passed, dissatisfaction is general and there is no visible relief. Still the English people spend a million dollars every day for liquor in excess of the sum they spend for clothing.

A big "safety first" congress is to be held in Chicago next month, its efforts being directed chiefly toward protection of life and limb on the streets and highways of the country. In connection with this big gathering Chicago might demonstrate its interest in the welfare of citizens and visitors by muzzling all the gangsters while the "safety first" exposition is under way.

It is claimed there are more auto accidents during the fall months than there are in the summer time, despite the fact that more cars are on the road and the added fact that they cover much more mileage in summer. Slippery pavements, made so by frost, fallen leaves and mud are given as causes of the added accidents.

In many sections of the country the American Legion has taken upon itself the burden of assisting needy people through the hard months to come. In war and in peace the Legion should have the earnest support of the people everywhere.

An Iowa newspaper twits Gov. Olson with refusal to surrender men wanted in that state for alleged crimes by saying that if the governor would only keep these men in Minnesota before they are wanted in the Hawkeye state all would be satisfactory.

The men who gave a "horse dinner" to equines and their owners in New York recently did little to add to their popularity among citizens who are looking for work in order to maintain their families.

Now You Can Have STAINLESS Vicks VapoRub

Your Same Vicks... Only Color Removed... Same Formula Same Price

HERE'S real news! Science has found a way to remove the color from the world's most famous treatment for colds—without altering the time-tested formula an iota! It's your same Vicks—just all chance of stain gone!

Why 26 Million Jars Are Used Yearly—For twenty-five years Vicks VapoRub has been the mothers' reliance—the family standby for cold troubles. Like nothing else Vicks acts externally—without the risks of "dosing"—direct to the affected area—by stimulation and inhalation—2 ways at once.

In Golden Amber or Stainless White—Now your druggist has Vicks in the original amber or the new stainless white form—as you prefer it. It's the same dependable Vicks... same time-tested ingredients, compounded in the same exclusive Vicks way—at the same price.

VICKS NOW IN TWO FORMS...as you prefer it

For a generation an especially selected amber petrolatum has been used as the base of Vicks, because we found no white or "stainless" base of satisfactory melting point and viscosity that would permit the gradual, long-continued vaporizing action that is distinctive of Vicks.

Through the perfection of a process which removes the natural color, without otherwise affecting its properties, Vicks Chemists have at last made Vicks VapoRub possible in white, stainless form, for those who prefer it.

Now You Can Have STAINLESS Vicks VapoRub

Your Same Vicks... Only Color Removed... Same Formula Same Price

HERE'S real news! Science has found a way to remove the color from the world's most famous treatment for colds — without altering the time-tested formula an iota! It's your same Vicks—just all chance of stain gone!

Why 26 Million Jars Are Used Yearly—For twenty-five years Vicks VapoRub has been the mothers' reliance—the family standby for cold troubles. Like nothing else Vicks acts externally—without the risks of "dosing"—direct to the affected area—by stimulation and inhalation—2 ways at once.

In Golden Amber or Stainless White—Now your druggist has Vicks in the original amber or the new stainless white form—as you prefer it. It's the same dependable Vicks... same time-tested ingredients, compounded in the same exclusive Vicks way—at the same price.

VICKS NOW IN TWO FORMS...as you prefer it

For a generation an especially selected amber petrolatum has been used as the base of Vicks, because we found no white or "stainless" base of satisfactory melting point and viscosity that would permit the gradual, long-continued vaporizing action that is distinctive of Vicks.

Through the perfection of a process which removes the natural color, without otherwise affecting its properties, Vicks Chemists have at last made Vicks VapoRub possible in white, stainless form, for those who prefer it.

TWO AFTERNOON HOLIDAYS ASKED FOR TEACHERS TO ATTEND P. T. A. SESSIONS

A popular observance of Armistice Day, November 11, making that memorable anniversary of the Great War a holiday for school children in the city that they might participate in exercises and a parade through downtown Brainerd streets is the suggestion of the Brainerd Post of the American Legion to the Board of Education.

The board will consider the advisability of such cooperation and will hear a report on the same by a committee of members at its October 5 meeting.

The day had for the previous few years been observed with little ceremony. One of the attractions of the day will be the annual football classic between Brainerd high school and Crosby-Ironton high school.

The board at the Oct. 5 meeting will also hear a report on the proposal of a committee from the Central P. T. A. who requested a teachers holiday the afternoons of Oct. 20 and 21 that they might attend sessions of the Minnesota Congress of Parents and Teachers and benefit by these meetings. The committee of P. T. A. members making the request comprised: Mesdames W. C. Rasch, A. C. Weber and R. H. Paine.

To Plant Trees
In connection with the state meeting plans, those of planting trees at the Washington high school grounds as one of the ceremonies were advanced to the board by R. T. Campbell. The building and grounds committee will take charge of preparations.

Inspect Playground Equipment
At an early date the building, grounds and janitors committee will inspect playground equipment on the grounds of Brainerd schools and will make such repairs as they find necessary. The safety of maypools and swings will particularly be watched.

Officer Erick Graff has been reappointed truant officer for Brainerd schools during the ensuing year.

"Red Hat" Bestowed on Cardinals as a Symbol

The red hat, the most conspicuous feature of the insignia of Roman Catholic cardinals, dates as a vestment from 1245. In that year it was bestowed on secular cardinals by Pope Innocent IV as a symbol of their readiness to shed their blood for Christ and the church. Gregory XIV in 1591 extended the privilege of wearing the red hat to cardinals belonging to religious orders. As now made, the ecclesiastical hat is scarlet in color and has a small, flat crown and a broad brim with cords and tassels of special patterns hanging over it. It is placed on the head of the newly appointed cardinal by the hand of the pope at a public consistory, but the hat is very seldom worn afterward. Instead it is usually laid aside until the funeral obsequies of the cardinal, when it is placed on his catafalque. In the absence of the cardinal, and sometimes after his death, the red hat may be hung from the roof of the cathedral. The color of the cardinal's hat has become known as cardinal red, and a species of American finch is called the cardinal bird or the red cardinal because of the brilliant plumage of the male.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Use for Waste Lumber

Conservation of the nation's forests promises to become a reality through a scientific utilization of waste timber, according to the American survey bureau.

"Modern science has evolved a process of making wood boards from waste lumber that doubtless eventually will become an important factor in solving the timber conservation problem," a bureau bulletin says. "By this process edgings, slabs and short lengths of natural forest-grown timber from the sawmills, material formerly sent to the trash burners as worthless, are reduced by terrific explosions from steam guns to a fibrous mass, which is subjected to heat and pressure until it is converted into strong, smooth, grainless boards."

Although the curfew bell was abolished in the Seventeenth century, there are still a few towns in England, which retain the old custom. At Ripon, in Yorkshire; Sandbach, Cheshire; Chesham in Buckinghamshire, and Worthingham, Berkshire, a bell is rung or a horn blown to announce curfew each night.

"Why My Next Car will be A FORD"

WHEN you buy a Ford there are two things you never have to worry about. One is reliability. The other is long life.

Here's an interesting letter from a Ford owner in North Carolina:

"My Ford was purchased May 8, 1928, and has been run 121,767 miles. It has never stopped on the road for repairs of any kind whatsoever except punctures.

"The brakes were relined at 101,000 miles. My gas mileage averaged 21 miles to the gallon, and on tires, 19,000 miles per tire. I travel over all kinds of road conditions—mountainous and flat.

"I consider this a wonderful record and I assure you my next car will also be a Ford."

This is just one of many tributes to the reliability and long life of the Ford. A Ford owner in Iowa tells of driving his Ford 73,000 miles in a single year. Another writes of 120,000 miles of good service.

Think ahead when you are considering the purchase of an automobile and consider what it will be like after thousands of miles of driving. Will you still be satisfied? Will you still say "it's a great car"?

If it's a Ford, you know everything will be O. K. It will be taking you there and back in good style, just as it has always done. And you will have saved many important, worthwhile dollars in cost of operation and up-keep and low yearly depreciation.

Where Curfew Rings

Although the curfew bell was abolished in the Seventeenth century, there are still a few towns in England, which retain the old custom. At Ripon, in Yorkshire; Sandbach, Cheshire; Chesham in Buckinghamshire, and Workingham, Berkshire, a bell is rung or a horn blown to announce curfew each night.

"Why My Next Car will be A FORD"

WHEN you buy a Ford there are two things you never have to worry about. One is reliability. The other is long life.

Here's an interesting letter from a Ford owner in North Carolina:

"My Ford was purchased May 3, 1923, and has been run 121,767 miles. It has never stopped on the road for repairs of any kind whatsoever except punctures.

"The brakes were relined at 101,000 miles. My gas mileage averaged 21 miles to the gallon, and on tires, 19,000 miles per tire. I travel over all kinds of road conditions—mountainous and flat.

"I consider this a wonderful record and I assure you my next car will also be a Ford."

This is just one of many tributes to the reliability and long life of the Ford. A Ford owner in Iowa tells of driving his Ford 73,000 miles in a single year. Another writes of 120,000 miles of good service.

Think ahead when you are considering the purchase of an automobile and consider what it will be like after thousands of miles of driving. Will you still be satisfied? Will you still say "it's a great car"?

If it's a Ford, you know everything will be O. K. It will be taking you there and back in good style, just as it has always done. And you will have saved many important, worth-while dollars in cost of operation and up-keep and low yearly depreciation.

REGULARS OUT AT CARLETON, ST. MARY AND OTHER CAMPS

GUSTAVUS ADOLPHUS, CONCORDIA COLLEGES ALSO SUFFER FROM INJURY JINX

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 23.—Training season injuries today apparently have taken a greater toll this year than ever before in state college football camps.

At the University of Minnesota the injury bugaboo has stepped lightly thus far, although Harold Anderson, Owatonna, veteran right end was forced out and his loss will be keenly felt.

Injuries already have removed four regulars from the lineups of the St. Mary's Redmen at Winona. Coach Tom Skemp took 22 players to Bozeman, Mont., for a game with Montana State this week end but Lynch, E. Prelenski, Dockendorf and Kusubski remained home on the hospital list.

X-rays today revealed that Mel Remington, Carleton college quarterback candidate had dislocated his shoulder in a game with Minneapolis Central. Remington was known as the best passer in the midwest conference and will not be in the lineup when the Northfield school opens its schedule against River Falls, Saturday.

Two men are laid up with fractured collar bones at Gustavus Adolphus college at St. Peter while a third has broken ribs. Joanfon and Grazin have collar bone injuries and Kenneth Sandboe has broken ribs. Martens is recovering from a leg injury.

At Moorhead Concordia college, athletes are nursing a series of bruises suffered in their recent game with North Dakota Aggies which went to the Bisons from the Dakotas by a score of 19 to 0.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 23.—Quentin Burdick, blocking back, and Lloyd Hilber, sophomore fullback, have rejoined the Minnesota squad after several days' absence. Burdick probably will not have to be operated on for appendicitis as was thought at first.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 23.—Brothers are staging a keen battle for the Indiana quarterback job. Vic Daurer, who played last year, is getting his hardest competition from Ray Daurer, a sophomore.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 23.—Art Jens and Ed Manske, sophomores, are the leading candidates for the left end position on the Northwestern team. Jens is 6 feet, 3 inches tall and Manske 6 feet, 1 inch. They are being groomed to catch Renner's long passes.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 23.—Michigan's two first teams were scheduled to scrimmage today. The last scrimmage developed some weak blocking and Coach Harry Kipke devoted yesterday's practice entirely to that department. Schmidt, fullback, and La Juenesse, guard, received bruises.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 23.—Wisconsin's new backfield combination, Pacetti, Linfor, Elliker and Schneller, worked well together in yesterday's practice. Linfor and Elliker showed a lot of speed and Schneller plunged well.

Iowa City, Iowa, Sept. 23.—Tackles and ends are giving Coach Ingwersen most of his trouble in getting Iowa ready to open the season Oct. 3 against the U of Pittsburgh here. The ends are weak on blocking and tackling and the tackles are inexperienced.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 23.—The hunt for a fullback continues to absorb Coach Robert C. Zuppke in the U. of Illinois daily practice. Schildgren, a sophomore, was given a trial yesterday.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Five U. of Chicago backs, Pat Page, Jr., Temple, Don Birney, Louis Kanne and Robert Aufdenspring, are temporarily ineligible and will not play in the double-header Saturday against Hillsdale and Cornell college. All of them hope to be eligible for the third games against Michigan October 10.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 23.—Purdue will test its football strength Saturday when the varsity meets the freshmen in a regulation game. The Boiler-makers have abundant backfield talent, but the line is giving the coaches some worry.

Griffiths has won six out of eight bouts this year, losing 10-round decisions to each W. L. (Young) Strilberg and Loughran. Griffiths knocked out Emmet Rocco twice and won from George Heron, King Levinsky, Paul Pantaleo and Con O'Kelly.

RENO PROMOTERS SEEK DEMPSEY FOR JUNE, 1932, CARD

OFFER MANASSA MAULER BIG SUM FOR FIRST COMEBACK FIGHT

Reno, Nev., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Two Reno sportsmen bid for a place among big time promoters today in offering Jack Dempsey a fight here in June, 1932, at a price bigger than any easterner makes.

James McKay and William Graham, partners of Dempsey in promoting the Uzdun-Baer fight July 4, sought Dempsey's services for a 25-round bout against "an outstanding heavyweight battler" in Reno.

The offer was made public by Leonard D. Sacks, the ex-champion's business manager, and was taken as an indication that Dempsey is seriously considering an attempt to regain the title he lost to Gene Tunney.

"The Manassa mauler is priming for battle," said Sacks. "He will fight for the biggest bidder. William F. Carey of Madison Square Garden, Jim Johnston of New York and other interests are seeking him, but I personally believe Dempsey would be ready to give the edge to Reno, since his home is here."

"Graham and I are in the market for Dempsey in his first comeback fight," McKay said. "We will post a substantial sum to guarantee our good faith."

October 24—Iowa vs. Minnesota, at Minneapolis.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—(UP)—Sophomores will form the backbone of the Illinois football team which may upset all Big Ten calculations.

Robert C. Zuppke, beginning his 19th season at Illinois, has 12 letter men back from his disappointing team of last year, but only four of them are being considered in the plans for this year's team. In 1930 Illinois won only one out of five conference games.

A sophomore team has some thing an experienced squad often lacks—you might call it elixir of life—and it is likely to kick out in all directions and surprise everybody itself," says Zuppke.

Zuppke has a soft spot in his heart for sophomore teams because some of the greatest eleven he ever coached were composed largely of new men, such as the championship teams of 1915, 1918, 1923 and 1927.

Illinois is the only Big Ten team that plays the three favorites, Northwestern, Michigan and Purdue. The big test comes for Illinois when it meets Michigan in its first conference game Oct. 24. If Illinois should upset Michigan, a wild scramble might result between four or five teams for the title.

Of last year's regulars only Gil Berry, flashy halfback; Stanley Jensen, guard; Red Owen and Mark Swanson, ends. Berry is the only one sure of a regular berth.

Last year's freshman line composed of Straw, 170 pound center; Platt, 190 and Gorenstein, 206, guards; Glick, 207, and Hyne, 192, tackles; and Schustek, 182, and Frink, 171, ends, may step up intact as the 1931 varsity forward wall. Gorenstein, one of the stars of this young group, made a hit with Zuppke when he told him he had no business to come on the field during a freshman-varsity game last year.

Illinois' backfield may be made up of Bob Horsley, quarterback; Berry and Dave Cook, halfbacks, and Herman Walster, fullback. Horsley, a 150-pound sophomore, is one of the smallest men on the squad but he is a fighter and a leader. Cook, 200-pound sophomore, is the 2nd son of Jimmie Cook, an Illinois gridiron hero of 30 years ago. Berry, who staged a 60-yard run for a touchdown through the entire Michigan team last year, and Cook probably will do most of the ball carrying. Walster is efficient in blocking and is strong on defense. Berry and Horsley are both expert passers.

Other backs are Bill Charle, freshman captain two years ago, Snively, Hall and Schalk, sophomores, and Schulz, Evans, Munch, Root, letter men last year.

Capt. Pete Yanuskus, halfback, is ineligible, and Coach Zuppke will appoint a captain before each game.

The schedule: Oct. 3, St. Louis "U"; Oct. 10, at Purdue; Oct. 17, Bradley; Oct. 24, Michigan; Oct. 31, at Northwestern; Nov. 7, Wisconsin; Nov. 14, Chicago; Nov. 21 at Ohio State.

DOUBLE DEFEAT OF INDIANS AIDS BLUES IN RACE

WHILE INDIANAPOLIS IS LOSING TWO, K. C. SPLITS WITH ST. PAUL

(By United Press)

Things are not always what they seem, and as proof of that statement Kansas City was even more firmly entrenched in second place in the American Association today, instead of being ousted.

Kansas City met St. Paul, league champions, yesterday. But instead of losing both games, as might have been expected, they won the first game, 8 to 5, before dropping the second, 7 to 6.

Indianapolis, on the other hand, should have won its game from Toledo. But, instead, the Indians went to a double defeat before the cellar team, 8 to 4 and 5 to 2, and thereby found themselves three and one-half games behind the Blues.

Louisville also lost a double-header, Columbus winning two easy games, 13 to 6 and 4 to 1.

Milwaukee kept its lead over Minneapolis when the two teams split a double bill. After losing the opener, 10 to 7, the Brewers took the nightcap, 7 to 1.

In most instances could scarcely be called "upsets."

There was one exception Mrs. Glenna Collett Vane. The Philadelphiaan, seeking her sixth national championship, should survive her match with Mrs. Charles Eddis, of Toronto.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, Englewood, N. J., Miss Enid Wilson, Notts, England, and Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, were slight favorites in their matches.

Miss Orcutt, who eliminated Miss Jane Broadwell, Springfield, Mass., in the first round, was paired with Miss Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., today.

Miss Wilson was to meet Mrs. L. C. Nelson, Dayton, O., who was forced to go to the 18th hole to defeat Miss Ada Mackenzie yesterday. Miss Van Wie, victor over Mrs. Marion Turpie Lake, Flushing, L. I., had Miss Frances Williams, Lehigh, Pa., as her opponent.

LOUGHRAN'S STRONG FINISH BRINGS HIM WIN OVER SEKYRA

PHILADELPHIA BOXING MASTER OUTPOINTS BOHEMIAN IN 10-ROUND BOUT

New York, Sept. 23.—(UP)—Joe Sekyra, Dayton's bold Bohemian, clearly is not the master of Tommy Loughran—and for that matter it is doubtful if any other boxer can defeat the Philadelphia boxing master over a 10-round route—it will be some time before another fighter accepts the veteran Ohioan as a "set-up."

Sekyra removed all doubt as to his fighting ability last night when he held Loughran to a close decision in the Daily Mirror's charity show which netted $27,000 for the hospital radio fund. The Ohioan, a 3 to 1 underdog in the betting despite his recent victory over Charley Retzlaff, made a surprisingly strong showing and went into the final round of the bout on even terms with the Philadelphiaan, who is accepted generally as the most worthy challenger for Max Schmeling's world's heavyweight title.

Loughran, finishing strong and mixing his usual superb boxing with a slugging attack, won the final round by a clear margin and deserved his victory.

The 15,000 spectators, captivated by the underdog's brave bid for victory, booed the verdict and gave all their cheers to Sekyra but the Dayton veteran failed to receive a single vote from the officials. Referee Arthur Donovan called the bout a draw and Judges Charles F. Mathison and Marty Moyoe, voted for Loughran.

The Philadelphia's late rally in which he evened the score by outboxing Sekyra in the eighth and ninth, rounds and went on to win by out-slugging and outboxing his rival in the tenth offset his poor showing in the early rounds.

Charley Retzlaff, 196 1-2, Duluth knockout star, scored two round victory over Dick Onken, 206, Germany, in the scheduled 10-round semi-final. Retzlaff outclassed his inexperienced foe but failed to put over a finishing punch. Referee Donovan stopping the contest with Onken still willing to continue.

At Atlanta—Maxie Rosenbloom, 176, lightweight, and Battling Bozo, 182, of Birmingham, fought a ten round draw last night.

At Los Angeles—Harry Smith, 163, New York negro, defeated Joe Anderson, 162, Covington, Ky., by technical knockout (3); David Velasco, Mexico City, knocked out Charley Sapko, New York, (3).

At Indianapolis—Midget Wolgast, 113, flyweight champion, outpointed Johnnie Edwards, 14, Huntington, W. Va., non-title bout (10); Willard Brown, 134, Indianapolis, defeated Al Dunbar, 131, New York, (8); Jimmie Fox, 113, Indianapolis, defeated Jack Coogan, 113, Muncie (6).

Airplane Whirl Causes Injury to McCready

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 23.—(UP)—Earl McCready, former national collegiate wrestling champion from Oklahoma, was in St. Raphael's hospital today after lying unconscious more than two hours as result of an airplane whirl applied last night by John Maxos of Greece in their wrestling bout at Savin Rock Park.

It was the first bout McCready had lost since he began his professional career here last year. X-rays were to be taken today to determine the extent of his injuries.

SECOND PLACE TO BE DECIDED IN FOUR GAME SERIES

SENATORS WITH HALF GAME LEAD TO MEET YANKEES FOR RUNNER-UP BERTH

New York, Sept. 23.—(UP)—Second place and second money in the 1931 American league race will be decided in a four game series between the Washington Senators and New York Yankees which begins here today.

The Senators went in to the opening game enjoying a one-half game lead over their rivals. They gained this advantage yesterday by whipping the Chicago White Sox 7 to 2, while the Yankees were idle.

Carl Fischer, Washington's star rookie, allowed the Sox but seven hits in scoring his 13th victory of the season.

The Philadelphia Athletics established a new high winning record for Connie Mack teams by winning their 105th game of the season.

Detroit's toothless Tigers were the A's victims, and the score was 8 to 6. The Athletics scored all their runs in the first four innings. Infielder Mark Koenig went to the mound for the Tigers in the fifth and held the world champions scoreless for the rest of the game.

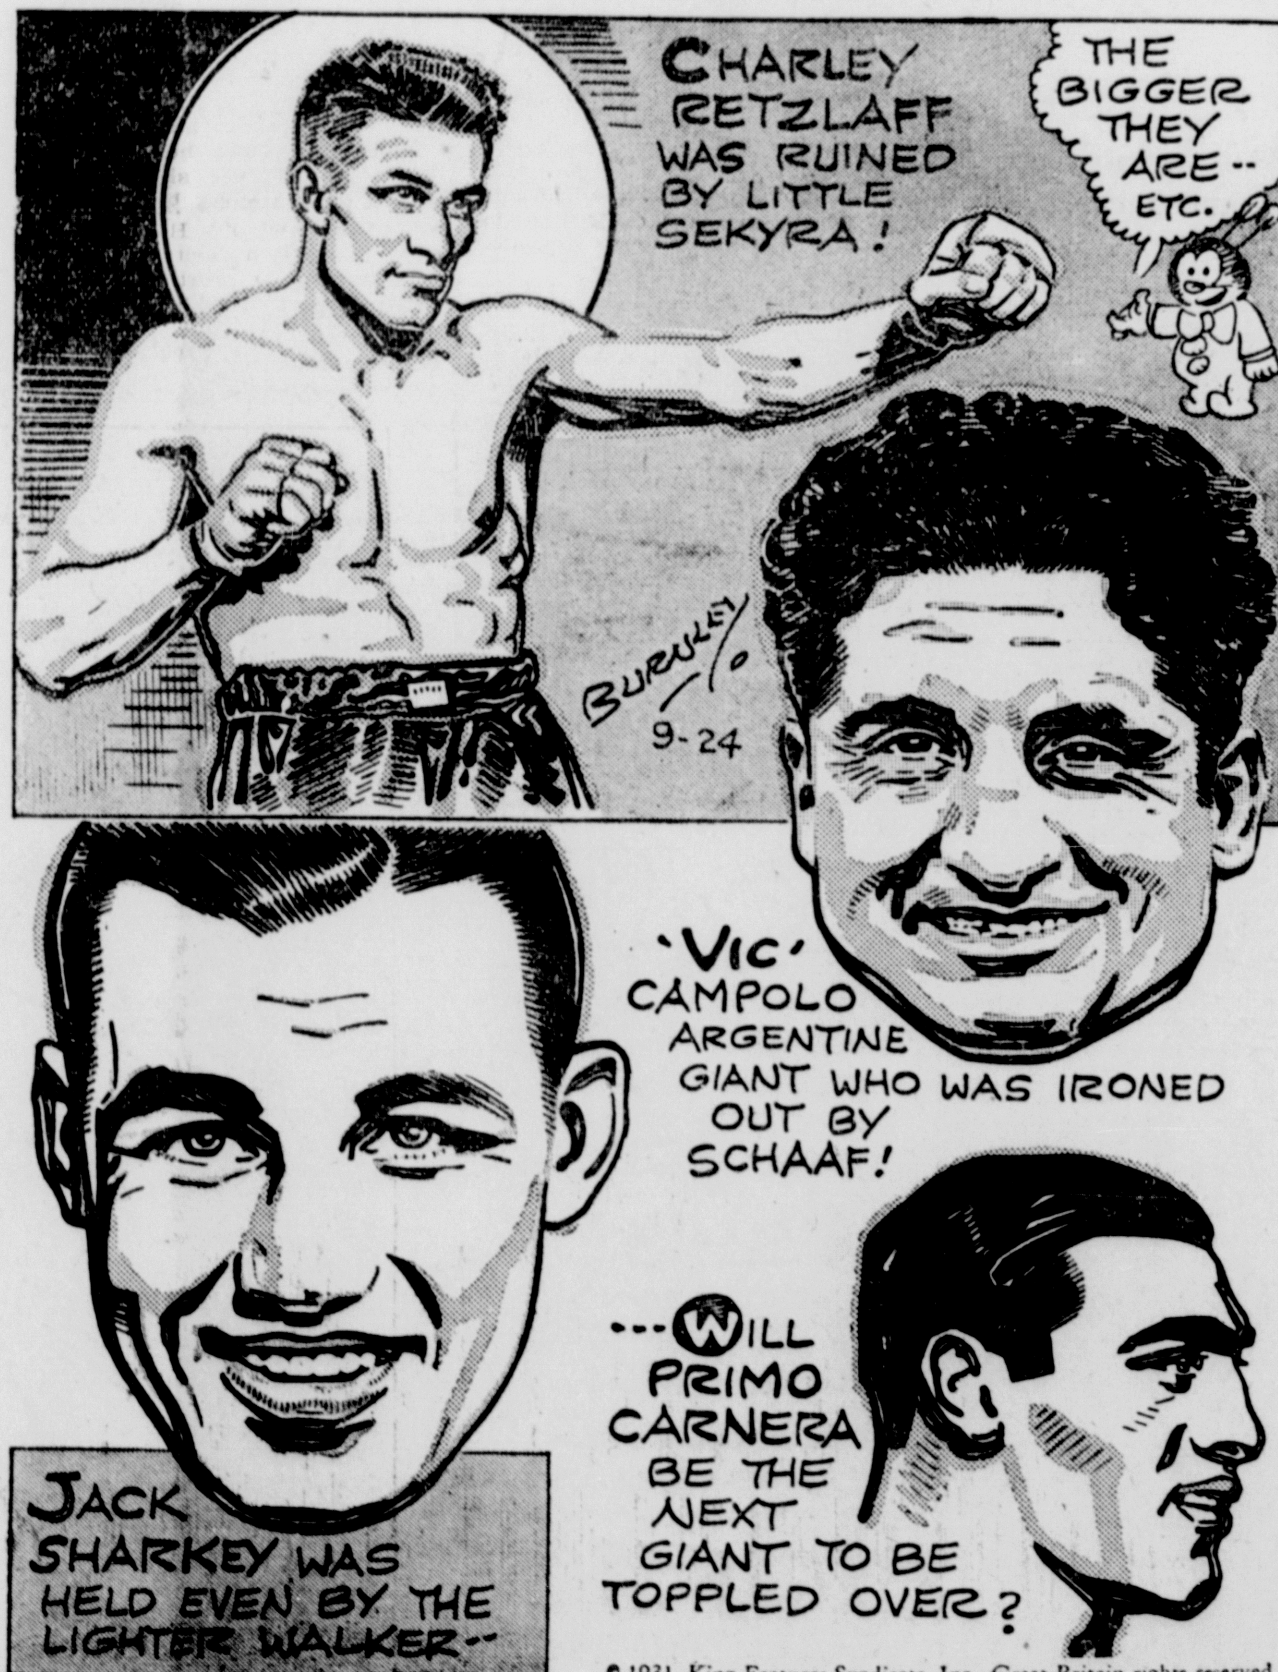

In the only other American league game the St. Louis Browns scored five runs in the ninth inning to whip the Boston Red Sox 5 to 2.

In the National league, where but two games were played, the Brooklyn Robins defeated the St. Louis Cardinals (as if the Cards cared) 6 to 3, and the Pittsburgh Pirates nosed out the Phillies 3 to 2 after 13 innings.

Van Mungo and Quinn pitched for the Robins, while Paul Derringer, rookie ace, did the hurling for the los

RENO PROMOTERS SEEK DEMPSEY FOR JUNE, 1932, CARD

OFFER MANASSA MAULER BIG SUM FOR FIRST COMEBACK FIGHT

Reno, Nev., Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—Two Reno sportsmen bid for a place among big time promoters today in offering Jack Dempsey a fight here in June, 1932, at a price bigger than any easterner makes.

James McKay and William Graham, partners of Dempsey in promoting the Uzeudun-Baer fight July 4, sought Dempsey's services for a 25-round bout against "an outstanding heavyweight battler" in Reno.

The offer was made public by Leonard D. Sacks, the ex-champions's business manager, and was taken as an indication that Dempsey is seriously considering an attempt to regain the title he lost to Gene Tunney.

"The Manassa mauler is priming for battle," said Sacks. "He will fight for the biggest bidder. William F. Carey of Madison Square Garden, Jim Johnston of New York and other interests are seeking him, but I personally believe Dempsey would be ready to give the edge to Reno, since his home is here."

"Graham and I are in the market for Dempsey in his first comeback fight," McKay said. "We will post a substantial sum to guarantee our good faith."

LOUGHRAN'S STRONG FINISH BRINGS HIM WIN OVER SEKYRA

PHILADELPHIA BOXING MASTER OUTPOINTS BOHEMIAN IN 10-ROUND BOUT

New York, Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—Joe Sekyra, Dayton's bold Bohemian, clearly is not the master of Tommy Loughran—and for that matter it is doubtful if any other boxer can defeat the Philadelphia boxing master over a 10-round route—it will be some time before another fighter accepts the veteran Ohioan as a "set-up."

Sekyra removed all doubt as to his fighting ability last night when he held Loughran to a close decision in the Daily Mirror's charity show which netted $27,000 for the hospital radio fund. The Ohioan, a 3 to 1 underdog in the betting despite his recent victory over Charley Retzlaff, made a surprisingly strong showing and went into the final round of the bout on even terms with the Philadelphian, who is accepted generally as the most worthy challenger for Max Schmeling's world's heavyweight title.

Loughran, finishing strong and mixing his usual superb boxing with a slugging attack, won the final round by a clear margin and deserved his victory. The 15,000 spectators, captivated by the underdog's brave bid for victory, booed the verdict and gave all their cheers to Sekyra but the Dayton veteran failed to receive a single vote from the officials. Referee Arthur Donovan called the bout a draw and Judges Charles F. Mathison and Marty Moyoe, voted for Loughran.

The Philadelphian's late rally in which he evened the score by outboxing Sekyra in the eighth and ninth, rounds and went on to win by out-slugging and outboxing his rival in the tenth offset his poor showing in the early rounds.

Charley Retzlaff, 196 1-2, Duluth knockout star, scored two round victory over Dick Onken, 206, Germany, in the scheduled 10-round semi-final. Retzlaff outclassed his inexperienced foe but failed to put over a finishing punch. Referee Donovan stopping the contest with Onken still willing to continue.

At Atlanta—Maxie Rosenbloom, 176, lightweight, and Battling Bozo, 182, of Birmingham, fought a ten round draw last night.

At Los Angeles—Harry Smith, 163, New York negro, defeated Joe Anderson, 162, Covington, Ky., by technical knockout (3); David Velasco, Mexico City, knocked out Charley Sapko, New York, (3).

At Indianapolis—Midget Wolgast, 113, flyweight champion, outpointed John Edwards, 14, Huntington, W. Va., non-title bout (10); Willard Brown, 134, Indianapolis, defeated Al Dunbar, 131, New York, (8); Jimmie Fox, 113, Indianapolis, defeated Jack Coogan, 113, Muncie (6).

Airplane Whirl Causes

Injury to McCready

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—Earl McCready, former national collegiate wrestling champion from Oklahoma, was in St. Raphael's hospital today after lying unconscious more than two hours as result of an airplane whirl applied last night by John Maxos of Greece in their wrestling bout at Savin Rock Park.

It was the first bout McCready had lost since he began his professional career here last year. X-rays were to be taken today to determine the extent of his injuries.

SECOND PLACE TO BE DECIDED IN FOUR GAME SERIES

SENATORS WITH HALF GAME LEAD TO MEET YANKEES FOR RUNNER-UP BERTH

New York, Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—Second place and second money in the 1931 American league race will be decided in a four game series between the Washington Senators and New York Yankees which begins here today.

The Senators went in to the opening game enjoying a one-half game lead over their rivals. They gained this advantage yesterday by whipping the Chicago White Sox 7 to 2, while the Yankees were idle.

Carl Fischer, Washington's star rookie, allowed the Sox but seven hits in scoring his 13th victory of the season. The Philadelphia Athletics established a new high winning record for Connie Mack teams by winning their 105th game of the season.

Detroit's toothless Tigers were the A's victims, and the score was 8 to 6. The Athletics scored all their runs in the first four innings. Infielder Mark Koenig went to the mound for the Tigers in the fifth and held the world champions scoreless for the rest of the game.

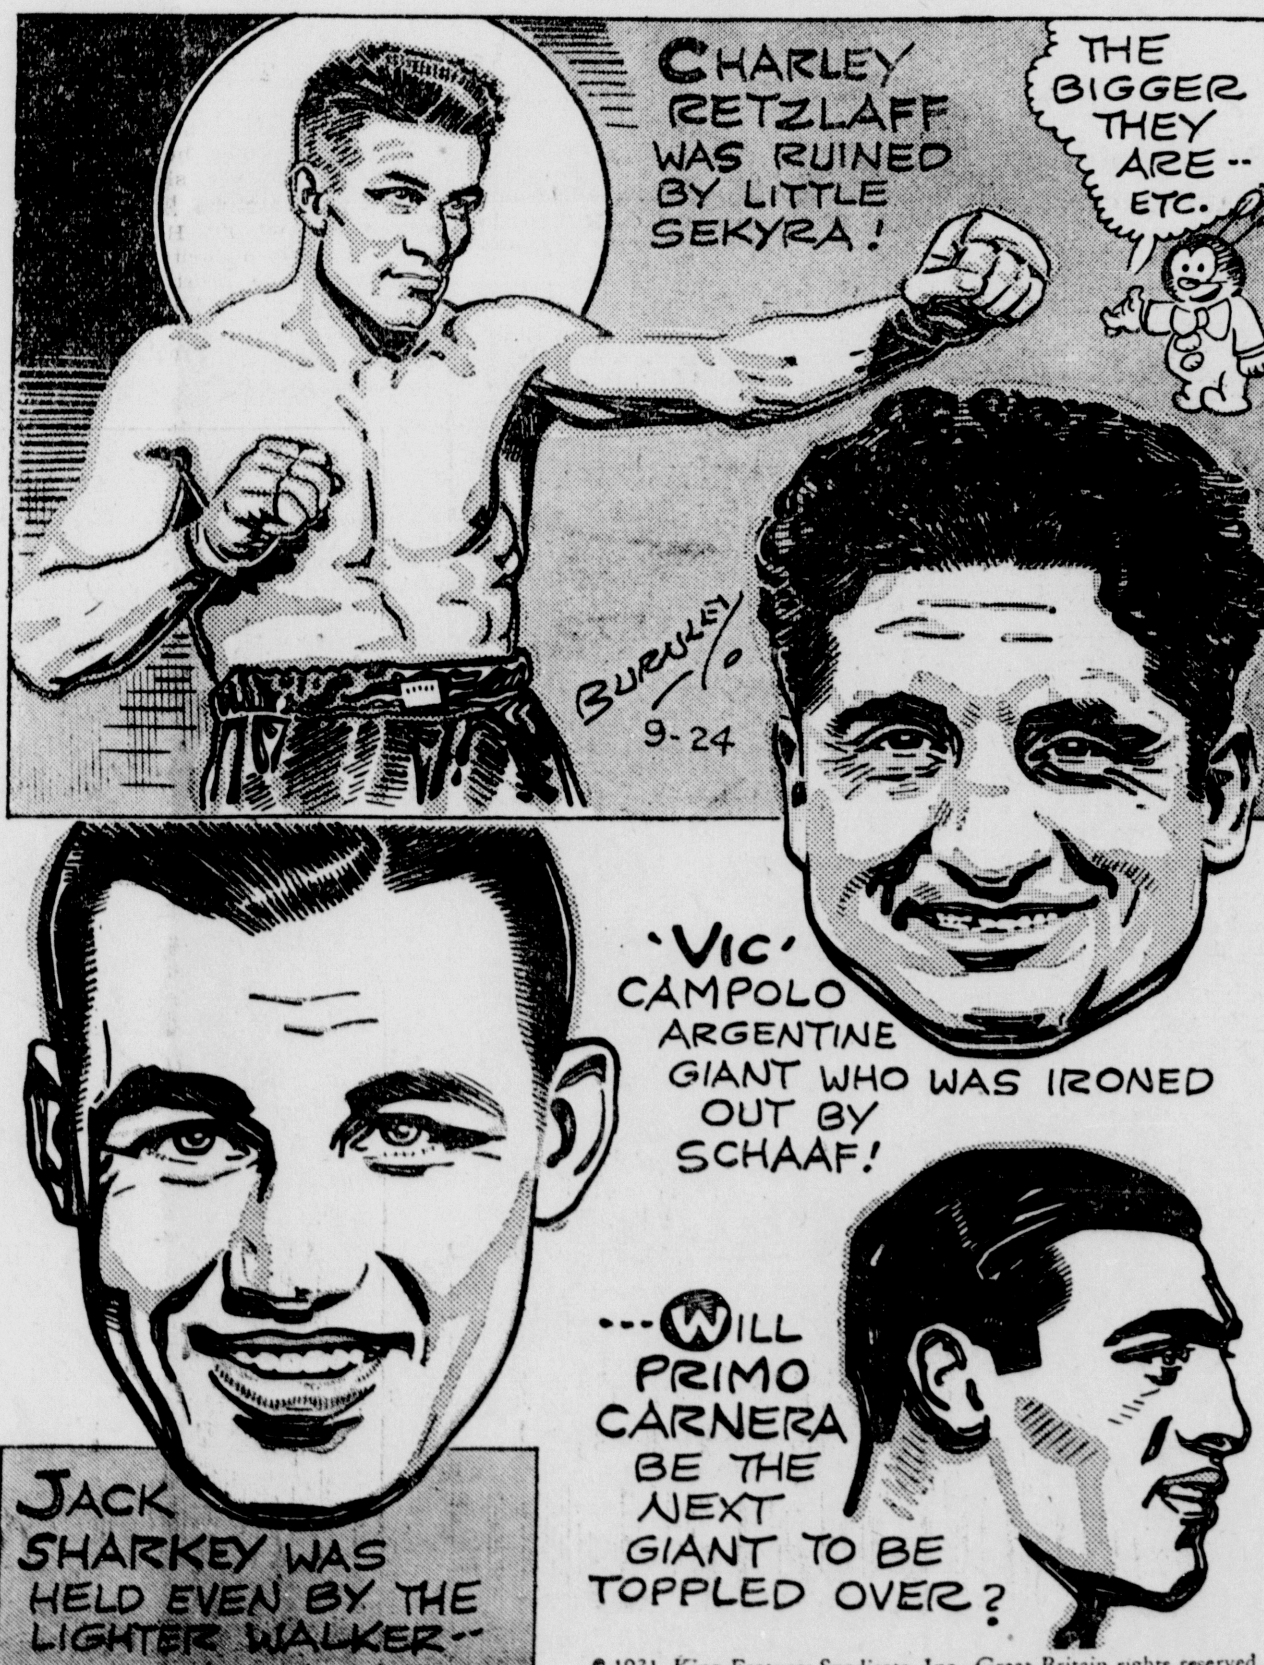

In the only other American league game the St. Louis Browns scored five runs in the ninth inning to whip the Boston Red Sox 5 to 2.

In the National league, where but two games were played, the Brooklyn Robins defeated the St. Louis Cardinals (as if the Cards cared) 6 to 3, and the Pittsburgh Pirates nosed out the Phillies 3 to 2 after 13 innings.

Van Mungo and Quinn pitched for the Robins, while Paul Derringer, rookie ace, did the hurling for the Sox.

"The Harder They Fall"

By HARDIN BURNLEY

CORBETT stopping Sullivan, Dempsey kayoing Willard and doing likewise to Firpo, are perfect examples of pugilism's comparatively small heavies beating giants in the game. Jack Sharkey next Thursday night will have the chance to play the giant-killer role during 15 rounds at Brooklyn, N. Y., when (as the boys do say) they'll feed him the 265-pound, 6-foot-7 Primo Carnera, the most colorful and most criticized fisticuff of the day. Practically all the critics agree that the Italian giant is nothing but a "circus freak" hippodromed by trickery and even fraud into sporting prominence. Such a sashen of sock as "Bill" McGeehan has dubbed Carnera "The Tall Tower of Gorgonzola." That probably is the politest epithet yet applied to Primo by those who insist Carnera & Co. have violated all the canons of pugilism, both pure and impure. However—If Primo were as putrid a pugilist as the critics say he is, why didn't Champion Max Schmeling live up to his contract and return to pick up an easy $100,000 (at the least) by beating the Gorgonzola Giant? The Champ has a bad eye, you say. ME EYE! That Oct. 1 bout must look like easy money to Sharkey. It puts him in a giant-killing spot and fan popularity, which has eluded him thus far, might be captured with a slashing K. O. of the fantastic foreigner with the elephantine feet. Incidentally, it's been a tough season for the bigger battlers. Ernie Schaaf stopped the colossal Campolo recently; Joe Sekyra, a light heavy, gave the much larger Charley Retzlaff a 10-round drubbing; Mickey ("Mouse") Walker held even the Sharkey man to a draw, and—if that precedent continues to hold good—Jack should chastize the Vast Venetian. The good little men are beating the "good" big men and that bodes ill for Italy's Mobile Mountain unless the U. S. champion is no longer "good" in a fighting sense. Nobody seems to know just how good or bad Carnera is except, possibly, his manager, the canny Leon See, and he is confident that "Preem" is all set to take the Sharkey man, "wear him down and knock him out"—eh, bien? It is the work of Dorothea Charol.

Bandits Get $10,000 in Chicago Bank Raid

Chicago, Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—Ten thousand dollars was taken from the Parkway State Bank today by six men, two of whom remained outside as lookouts while the other four, two armed with shotguns and two with pistols, walked inside.

The quartet compelled Cashier Albert Svoboda to remove the money from the vault and hand it over to them while four other employees were kept covered.

The bandits, believed also to have robbed the Bank of Napoli a week ago last Saturday escaped in an automobile bearing Wisconsin license No. 720-76.

Discuss Farm Problems

Stressing the need of an intensive campaign to build up strong county farm bureaus and obtain appointment of more federal agents, the agricultural conference in Chicago admitted the importance of arousing farmers to support co-operative principals. Among the farm leaders at the meeting were James C. Stone, chairman of the Federal Farm Board (seated), L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange (left) and Edward O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau.

Aimee's Gorgeous "Pharaoh"

Handing all of you pharaohs out in front a frigid stare, David L. Hutton, Aimee Semple McPherson's new and third husband, is shown in gorgeous array, waited on hand and foot, in his role as Pharaoh in a sacred opera presented by the Los Angeles evangelist to her followers of Angelus Temple. Aimee's "Iron Man" looks ferocious enough here to carry out his threat of "sacking" anyone who criticizes the evangelist.

Chinese and Anesthetics

Some of the Arabian authorities speak of a form of anesthesia by inhalation, wrote Charles H. LaWall in "Four Thousand Years of Pharmacy." This probably was derived from the Chinese, for Hua T'o, the Hippocrates of China, is said to have taught this practice and used for the purpose a combination of aconite, datura and henbane. It was revived in the Thirteenth century, when it was called the "soporific sponge." And all this, comments the author, from a people who were so despised as to warrant a special clause in the litany of the English church during the period of the Crusades, which read: "From the Turk and the Comet, good Lord, deliver us."

Auction and Contract Bridge

Auction bridge originated in India. The first record of it is found in a letter, published in the London Times, January 16, 1903, outlining the game and referring to it as "the new game of auction bridge for three players." The Bath club made it a four-handed game and in 1907 the Portland club took it up. The first American code of laws of auction bridge was issued by the New York Whist club in 1910. Contract bridge dates back to 1913 or 1914. In 1915 the New York Whist club considered codifying its laws, but decided that the game was not settled enough for set rules.

Costly Tongue Wagging

The undesirable immigrant who made disparaging remarks about the admirable government was not let off with the penalty of mere deportation wrote Henry W. Lawrence in "The Not-Quite Puritans." It would be more nearly accurate to say that he was first punished on the spot, and then his remains were deported. Thus in 1931, the General court at Boston ordered "that Philip Ratcliffe shall be whipped, have his ears cut off, fined 10 pounds, and banished out of the limits of this jurisdiction, for uttering malicious and scandalous speeches against the government."

State Holds First Claim on Bandit

St. Paul, Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—The charge of being a fugitive from justice in Iowa against Reinhold Engel, convicted St. Paul bank robber, was stricken from the records in municipal court today.

Extradition of Engel to Eldon, Ia., was refused recently by Governor Floyd B. Olson.

Engel is at liberty on $75,000 bail on charges of robbing a mail truck at Austin, Minn., and on $25,000 bail from Grantsburg, Wis., where his appeal is pending on a bank robbery conviction.

INVESTIGATE STORY OF IMPRISONMENT

RESORT MANAGER AND WIFE
SAY THEY WERE HELD PRISONERS 10 HOURS

Tower, Minn., Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—St. Louis county officials today sought to check the story of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Soderstroms that they were held prisoners for ten hours at their home on Sunset Isle in Lake Vermillion.

The Soderstroms said that two bandits compelled them to cook for them while they searched their home for money, jewelry and other valuables. The pair took turns guarding the resort manager and his wife while they ate, slept and searched the resort.

Before they left, the pair tied Soderstrom to a stove and his wife to a chair, they told investigators. Soderstrom eventually freed himself by breaking his bonds after wearing them on the edge of the stove.

SUICIDE IDENTIFIED AS DULUTH RESIDENT

Superior, Wis., Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—The United States coast guard today identified the body of a man they dragged from Howard's bay as that of Emil Seligman, 67, Duluth.

Seligman who formerly lived in St. Paul, Minn., apparently leaped into the water from a rowboat under a bridge. He was identified by clothing he left in the rowboat before jumping.

Deputy Coroner William Downs said Seligman's death was a suicide. He was survived by two sons, George and Felix Seligman of Duluth.

Escapes Kidnapers in Hail of Bullets

Lincoln, Ill., Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—An attempt by four bandits to kidnap Mrs. Shelby Small, 30-year-old wife of an oil company agent, on the open highway failed today when she coolly drove her automobile through a hail of machine-gun fire, then emerged smiling from the wreckage of her machine.

GERMAN EXCHANGE CLOSES TEMPORARILY

Berlin, Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—The Bourse was ordered closed today for the remainder of the week. Trading between banks also was suspended.

Chief's Slayer?

Edward Kettenring (above), Arlington, N. J., chauffeur, has admitted to police, they say, that he killed Police Chief Charles Cavanaugh, of Arlington, because the officer "bawled out" his wife for a traffic violation and gave her a "ticket." The prisoner is said to have become enraged over Cavanaugh's action and shot him to death.

Minnesota's Successful 1931 State Fair Demonstrates The Northwest Is In Good Spirits

More entries in exhibits, an excellent attendance, larger participation by Minnesota counties, and revenues available to liquidate its debts—all mark the 1931 Minnesota State Fair a success. The Fair is over, but as proof of normal agricultural and industrial alertness, and of cheerful, aggressive spirit, its influence will be felt for months.

More exhibits were entered in the cattle, swine and horse sections than the average year. Vegetable exhibits were reduced a little by the drouth. Grain exhibits were larger than ever, one-third more space having to be allotted to the corn display the night before the Fair opened.

Attendance was below that of 1930, one of the banner years of Minnesota State Fair history, but compared favorably with 1929.

Administrative expenses were so reduced as to offset effectively the falling off of attendance. There was every indication that out-of-town attendance held its own; evidenced by an unusual interest in 4-H Club activities and the generous patronage of the Fair Grounds tourist camp.

Officers of other state fairs who attended were openly amazed at the entries and attendance here, and at the fact that this year's Fair was a success. They and others believe that the State Fair management showed wisdom and enterprise in maintaining the high calibre of entertainment, exhibits and appointments.

In January of this year we said: "This is a good place to live and work and do business—a place that, with the splendid agricultural area back of it, never suffers as greatly as some—where conditions are more uniform, more inviting, more livable, than in many other communities." Eight months later despite drouth, grasshoppers and depression, the 1931 State Fair confirms this.

Congratulations, Minnesota and the Northwest, on the successful 1931 State Fair!

CHAPTER I.

SHE pulled away or tried to. She said, with a forced note of lightness.

"I am Diana Hackett. I think you must be mistaken."

"No. You're Delight Harford," he said slowly. "I know you. You couldn't be anyone else. Why do you deny it? Don't you know me? Travers Lorrimer? You must know me."

She said, immediately. "I never saw you before in my life, Mr. Lorrimer," and, turning to Mary Lou, she asked, "Can't you explain to your friend that he is mistaken? I'm sorry to give so much trouble," she said again.

"But if I could get help to get back to town—"

Lorrimer slipped his hand down her arm, took her hand in his, turned it—

The Seal Ring.

"You wear my ring!" said Lorrimer.

Delight knew a moment of bitter anger directed against herself. Of course she had worn it, unthinkingly. She always wore it. She had fancied that, now and then, it brought her luck. The seal ring. His.

In that instant she surrendered. "Lorry," she said weakly, appealingly.

He stepped back from her, his face black with frowning concentration. But . . . if this was Delight . . . who was . . . ?

"If you are Delight," he said slowly, "who — who is she?"

He turned to Mary Lou, but Mary Lou was not there. At the moment when Lorrimer had been engrossed in the other girl, when he had said "you wear my ring," in the little pause that followed, she had slipped away, as fast as a deer, on feet of panic, and was running swiftly to the house by the shortest route.

When she got there, out of breath, half sobbing, going in by the back way, to the amazement of the servants, she flew to her own room. Mrs. Lorrimer and Peter and perhaps some of the others would be on their way to Lorrimer now. She could escape them all; she would simply have to hurry and fling a few things in a bag, take what money she had in cash, and go out of Westwood at the farthest gate, the gate leading out of the north woods.

She couldn't stay. She couldn't face it, face his disgust, his hatred. All over now. The lost was found; there was happiness ahead for these two. Whatever adjustments were to be made, they must make them without her. They were man and wife. She was nobody, just a girl who had been hired to play a role and who had wrecked her own happiness in the playing.

Her face was burning hot, her hands and feet icy, but her brain worked steadily, swiftly, clearly.

She took only the barest necessities. The pretty things that Margaret and had given her, she would have to leave them behind her, start all over again. She drew Lorry's sapphire from her finger and laid it on her bureau. She picked up an envelope and a pen and wrote across it: "Forgive me. I had to go—this way."

Then she was ready. One last look about the room, one terrible temptation to cast herself on the bed and yield herself up to sick weeping, a temptation she conquered, and then she had sped down the back stairs and through the servants' quarters like a flash of light.

Most of them had gone by now to give what help they could to the old butler. Only the cook, looking up from the table, at which she was standing, said "Miss Delight?" in a tone of stricken inquiry.

She reached the woods and went through them, stumbling, catching her tweed frock in undergrowth, half blind but wholly determined. She came out of the far gate and waited there a moment. To her complete surprise, a roadster going past, slowly, stopped and someone hailed her. It was Jenny Wynne.

"Delight!" called Jenny. No time to think.

Mary Lou climbed in and slammed the door.

"Jenny, help me! Jenny, you must help me!" she cried. "Drive me to the station—nob Westmill, but the Northmill station—and as fast as you can! Please! Please!"

Jenny Wynne gave one look at the small distraught face, threw in her gear without a word, and the car slid off smoothly, gathering speed.

"Tell me," she said quietly, "what has happened. I'm your friend and you know it. And I'm absolutely at your service."

True Friendship.

As they went toward Northmill Mary Lou told her—the truth—in short, choked sentences. Jenny, her hands steady on the wheel, listened and tried to understand. No time now for detailed explanations, for exclamations and questions, for all along. It was he who gave me the advertisement to read. I always hated your not knowing, Jenny, after we became such close friends. Now you know."

"Yes. What are you going to do?" said Jenny, and added, "Mary Lou?"

"I'm going to town. To Oakdale, I suppose I have to get away. From all of them. I precipitated this on them. I didn't mean to; I meant to persuade Mrs. Lorrimer to see Delight Harford, to realize that it was the only decent thing to do, that she owed it to her and to Lorry to clear up this whole mistaken situation."

"If you go to Oakdale," said Jenny, "they'll find you."

Mary Lou said nothing. The Northmill station was coming into view.

"Have you money?" asked Jenny, practically.

"Yes. Plenty. Oh, Jenny, am I a coward, not to see this through?"

"No," Jenny stopped the car at the station, put her arms about the other girl and kissed her. "No, you're a brick. I love you. So does Lorry. Keep in touch with us, Mary Lou. Promise?"

Mary Lou shook her head. "Not now. Later perhaps," she said.

"All right. It's up to you. But if you ever need anything, want anything, you've Larry and me. Remember that. And we won't give you away. If you want to stay—incognito—we'll respect that. Believe me."

"Of course — oh, bless you, Jenny, you're heavenly kind to me."

She heard the whistle of the train up the track, clung to Jenny a moment, a wet cheek against her own, said, checked:

A Complicated Situation.

"I'll never forget all you've been to me, Jenny. Please don't tell them you saw me. Tell Larry but no one else. Please don't tell them where you took me."

"All right," said Jenny. A few moments later she saw the train pull out, saw the small, beseeching face at the window and waved. Then she sat there a moment in the car, deep in bewildered, tangled and amazed thought. Whatever had happened, she was Mary Lou's friend. She loved her, under any name. The whole situation was too complicated. She'd see Larry, talk it over with him. It was perfectly plain to Jenny that Mary Lou was in love with Lorrimer and he with her. She despised this other unknown girl who had come out of the blue in order to take what was probably her rightful place. But the real Delight Harford had no friend in Jenny.

Meantime, back at Westwood house:

"Why—where is she? She was here—a minute ago," said Lorrimer, blankly.

Delight said nothing. She had seen Mary Lou go; had withheld an impulse to call her back. The truth was out anyway. If the girl felt safer in flight, then it was kinder not to speak. Lorrimer stepped away, took his head in his hands.

"I must be going mad," he said, bewildered, rather tragically.

"No, listen to me, Lorry. It's all quite simple. That girl came to your house to get a job. You saw her, mistook her for me. Your condition was such that your mother dared not tell you the truth. She has simply pretended to be Delight Harford. That's all."

"But—but—"

"I think," said Delight clearly, "that I see your mother coming, Lorry."

Bandits Get $10,000 in Chicago Bank Raid

Chicago, Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—Ten thousand dollars was taken from the Parkway State Bank today by six men, two of whom remained outside as lookouts while the other four, two armed with shotguns and two with pistols, walked inside.

The quartet compelled Cashier Albert Svoboda to remove the money from the vault and hand it over to them while four other employees were kept covered.

The bandits, believed also to have robbed the Bank of Napoli a week ago last Saturday escaped in an automobile bearing Wisconsin license No. 720-76.

Discuss Farm Problems

Stressing the need of an intensive campaign to build up strong county farm bureaus and obtain appointment of more federal agents, the agricultural conference in Chicago admitted the importance of arousing farmers to support co-operative principals. Among the farm leaders at the meeting were James C. Stone, chairman of the Federal Farm Board (seated), L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange (left) and Edward O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau.

Aimee's Gorgeous "Pharaoh"

Handing all of you plebeians out in front a frigid stare, David L. Hutton, Aimee Semple McPherson's new and third husband, is shown in gorgeous array, waited on hand and foot, in his role as Pharaoh in a sacred opera presented by the Los Angeles evangelist to her followers of Angelus Temple. Aimee's "Iron Man" looks ferocious enough here to carry out his threat of "sacking" anyone who criticizes the evangelist.

Chinese and Anesthetics

Some of the Arabian authorities speak of a form of anesthesia by inhalation, wrote Charles H. LaWall in "Four Thousand Years of Pharmacy." This probably was derived from the Chinese, for Hua To, the Hippocrates of China, is said to have taught this practice and used for the purpose a combination of aconite, datura and henbane. It was revived in the Thirteenth century, when it was called the "soporific sponge." And all this, comments the author, from a people who were so despised as to warrant a special clause in the litany of the English church during the period of the Crusades, which read: "From the Turk and the Comet, good Lord, deliver us."

Auction and Contract Bridge

Auction bridge originated in India. The first record of it is found in a letter, published in the London Times, January 16, 1903, outlining the game and referring to it as "the new game of auction bridge for three players." The Bath club made it a four-handed game and in 1907 the Portland club took it up. The first American code of laws of auction bridge was issued by the New York Whist club in 1910. Contract bridge dates back to 1913 or 1914. In 1915 the New York Whist club considered modifying its laws, but decided that the game was not settled enough for set rules.

Costly Tongue Wagging

The undesirable immigrant who made disparaging remarks about the admirable government was not let off with the penalty of mere deportation, wrote Henry W. Lawrence in "The Not-Quite Puritans." It would be more nearly accurate to say that he was first punished on the spot, and then his remains were deported. Thus, in 1631, the General court at Boston ordered "that Philip Ratcliffe shall be whipped, have his ears cut off, fined 10 pounds, and banished out of the limits of this jurisdiction, for uttering malicious and scandalous speeches against the government."

State Holds First Claim on Bandit

St. Paul, Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—The charge of being a fugitive from justice in Iowa against Reinhold Engel, convicted St. Paul bank robber, was stricken from the records in municipal court today.

Extradition of Engel to Eldon, Ia., was refused recently by Governor Floyd B. Olson.

Engel is at liberty on $75,000 bail on charges of robbing a mail truck at Austin, Minn., and on $25,000 bail from Grantsburg, Wis., where his appeal is pending on a bank robbery conviction.

INVESTIGATE STORY OF IMPRISONMENT

RESORT MANAGER AND WIFE
SAY THEY WERE HELD PRISONERS 10 HOURS

Tower, Minn., Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—St. Louis county officials today sought to check the story of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Soderstroms that they were held prisoners for ten hours at their home on Sunset Isle in Lake Vermillion.

The Soderstroms said that two bandits compelled them to cook for them while they searched their home for money, jewelry and other valuables. The pair took turns guarding the resort manager and his wife while they ate, slept and searched the resort.

Before they left, the pair tied Soderstrom to a stove and his wife to a chair, they told investigators. Soderstrom eventually freed himself by breaking his bonds after wearing them on the edge of the stove.

SUICIDE IDENTIFIED AS DULUTH RESIDENT

Superior, Wis., Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—The United States coast guard today identified the body of a man they dragged from Howard's bay as that of Emil Seligman, 67, Duluth.

Seligman who formerly lived in St. Paul, Minn., apparently leaped into the water from a rowboat under a bridge. He was identified by clothing he left in the rowboat before jumping.

Deputy Coroner William Downs said Seligman's death was a suicide. He was survived by two sons, George and Felix Seligman of Duluth.

Escapes Kidnapers in Hail of Bullets

Lincoln, Ill., Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—An attempt by four bandits to kidnap Mrs. Shelby Small, 30-year-old wife of an oil company agent, on the open highway failed today when she coolly drove her automobile through a hail of machine-gun fire, then emerged smiling from the wreckage of her machine.

GERMAN EXCHANGE CLOSES TEMPORARILY

Berlin, Sept. 23.—(U.P.)—The Bourse was ordered closed today for the remainder of the week. Trading between banks also was suspended.

Chief's Slayer?

Edward Kettenring (above), Arlington, N. J., chauffeur, has admitted to police, they say, that he killed Police Chief Charles Cavanaugh, of Arlington, because the officer "bawled out" his wife for a traffic violation and gave her a "ticket." The prisoner is said to have become enraged over Cavanaugh's action and shot him to death.

CHAPTER L

SHE pulled away or tried to. She said, with a forced note of lightness.

"I am Diana Hackett. I think you must be mistaken."

"No. You're Delight Harford," he said slowly. "I know you. You couldn't be anyone else. Why do you deny it? Don't you know me? Travers Lorrimer? You must know me."

She said, immediately. "I never saw you before in my life, Mr. Lorrimer," and, turning to Mary Lou, she asked, "Can't you explain to your friend that he is mistaken? I'm sorry to give so much trouble," she said again.

"But if I could get help to get back to town—"

Lorrimer slipped his hand down her arm, took her hand in his, turned it—

The Seal Ring.

"You wear my ring?" said Lorrimer.

Delight knew a moment of bitter anger directed against herself. Of course she had worn it, unthinkingly. She always wore it. She had fancied that, now and then, it brought her luck. The seal ring.

Minnesota's Successful 1931 State Fair Demonstrates The Northwest Is In Good Spirits

More entries in exhibits, an excellent attendance, larger participation by Minnesota counties, and revenues available to liquidate its debts—all mark the 1931 Minnesota State Fair a success. The Fair is over, but as proof of normal agricultural and industrial alertness, and of cheerful, aggressive spirit, its influence will be felt for months.

More exhibits were entered in the cattle, swine and horse sections than the average year. Vegetable exhibits were reduced a little by the drouth. Grain exhibits were larger than ever, one-third more space having to be allotted to the corn display the night before the Fair opened.

Attendance was below that of 1930, one of the banner years of Minnesota State Fair history, but compared favorably with 1929.

Administrative expenses were so reduced as to offset effectively the falling off of attendance. There was every indication that out-of-town attendance held its own; evidenced by an unusual interest in 4-H Club activities and the generous patronage of the Fair Grounds tourist camp.

Officers of other state fairs who attended were openly amazed at the entries and attendance here, and at the fact that this year's Fair was a success. They and others believe that the State Fair management showed wisdom and enterprise in maintaining the high calibre of entertainment, exhibits and appointments.

In January of this year we said: "This is a good place to live and work and do business—a place that, with the splendid agricultural area back of it, never suffers as greatly as some—where conditions are more uniform, more inviting, more livable, than in many other communities." Eight months later despite drouth, grasshoppers and depression, the 1931 State Fair confirms this.

Congratulations, Minnesota and the Northwest, on the successful 1931 State Fair!
